IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

A BILL

To amend the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985 to provide for an increase in the discretionary spending limit for fiscal year 2016, and for other purposes.

- 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
- 2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE; FINDINGS.

4 (a) SHORT TITLE.—This Act may be cited as the 5 "Prevent a December Government Shutdown Act".

6 (b) FINDINGS.—Congress finds the following:

 $\mathbf{2}$

1 (1) The Budget Control Act of 2011 set tight 2 discretionary spending caps and required additional 3 deficit reduction to be accomplished either through 4 bipartisan, bicameral negotiations or, as a fallback, 5 through sequestration that would further cut discre-6 tionary and mandatory spending levels. The threat 7 of such draconian and arbitrary cuts was intended 8 to encourage lawmakers to negotiate a thoughtfully 9 designed substitute package of revenue increases and 10 targeted spending cuts. 11 (2) The negotiations that followed were unsuc-12 cessful and the initial sequester took place in fiscal year 2013. 13 14 (3) While the threat of a sequester had not led 15 to an agreement, the reality of a sequester did. Law-16 makers negotiated a two-year agreement that set 17 higher levels of both defense and non-defense discre-18 tionary (NDD) spending for fiscal years 2014 and 19 2015.20 (4) A similar agreement is necessary now to 21 avoid deep budget cuts in the current fiscal year, 22 which began on October 1, 2015. 23 (5) Senator John McCain and Representative 24 Mac Thornberry, the Chairs of the Senate and 25 House Armed Services Committees, have criticized

1 the level of defense spending allowed under seques-2 tration: "These cuts are seriously undermining the 3 capabilities, readiness, morale and modernization of 4 the armed forces. The senior military leaders of the 5 Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps have all 6 testified to our committees that, with defense spend-7 ing at sequestration levels, they cannot execute the 8 National Military Strategy."

9 (6) The impact of the cuts on NDD spending 10 is becoming increasingly clear. NDD United—an al-11 liance of more than 2,500 organizations trying to 12 protect NDD investments that benefit all Ameri-13 cans—made the case that "these self-imposed cuts 14 are dragging down our economic recovery, ham-15 pering business growth and development, weakening 16 public health preparedness and response, reducing 17 resources for our nation's schools and colleges, com-18 promising federal oversight and fraud recovery, hin-19 dering scientific discovery, eroding our infrastruc-20 ture, and threatening our ability to address emer-21 gencies around the world." The impact can also be 22 seen in the bills reported by the House Committee 23 on Appropriations for fiscal year 2016. Among other 24 things, those bills would cut the Department of Edu-25 cation by $2.8 billion below the current level, take away housing vouchers from thousands of families, and provide $1.4 billion less than the President re quested for the Department of Veterans Affairs.

4 (7) The sequester—in addition to endangering 5 our defense, reducing investments in our future, and 6 risking harm to vulnerable Americans—will weaken 7 the nation's ongoing economic recovery. A recent 8 analysis by the Congressional Budget Office found 9 that eliminating the sequester would increase Gross 10 Domestic Product by 0.4 percent in 2016 and 0.2 11 percent in 2017. It would also increase employment 12 by 500,000 next year and 300,000 in 2017.

(8) Providing relief from the sequester will also make it possible for Congress to act on appropriations legislation before temporary government funding expires in December, averting a government shutdown if funding is not in place.

18 (9) The last Government shutdown lasted for 19 16 days in 2013. The Office of Management and 20 Budget later found that the shutdown cost the econ-21 omy about 120,000 private-sector jobs and shrunk 22 GDP growth in that quarter by 0.2 percent to 0.6 23 percent. The country lost 6.6 million days' worth of 24 work through furloughs of Federal employees; na-25 tional parks lost $500 million in visitor spending; $4 billion in tax refunds were delayed; nearly 6,300 children lost access to Head Start; and hundreds of food safety inspections were delayed.

 $\mathbf{5}$

4 (10) Therefore, to prevent another Government 5 shutdown and allow appropriations bills for fiscal 6 year 2016 to fund vital services at necessary levels, 7 immediate negotiations on a budget agreement are 8 needed. An essential component of those negotia-9 tions should be to raise the discretionary spending 10 caps for defense and non-defense, eliminating the 11 non-defense sequester and reducing the defense se-12 quester by the same amount.

(11) It is preferable that Congress agree to offset the cost of the sequester relief with deficit reduction from closing special interest tax loopholes. However, it is imperative that the sequester relief occur regardless of whether the agreement for offsetting deficit reduction is reached.
